Directed and Produced by Pamela B. Green

Pamela B. Green's Be Natural: The Untold Story of Alice Guy-Blaché, narrated by Jodie Foster, is a detective story, biopic, and feature documentary that rewrites film history, revealing for the first time the full scope of the life and work of cinema's first female director, screenwriter, producer, and studio owner Alice Guy-Blaché.

Beginning at Gaumont, Paris (1896-1907) and during her career's second decade in the U.S. (1910-1920), she wrote, directed, or produced 1,000 films, 150 of them with synchronized sound.

Pamela B. Green's Be Natural: The Untold Story of Alice Guy-Blaché is an independent film that began with a successful Kickstarter campaign and continued to be entirely donation-based.
